

The Mad Hatter's Tea Party

"Have you guessed the riddle yet?" The Mad Hatter.

The Mad Hatter always throws the greatest tea parties but this time he has gotten himself in a right muddle—he cannot remember exactly where people sit, he only has some mixed-up information. Who sits where?

Read this information and see if you can decipher where everyone sits.

- 1: The Mad Hatter is not opposite Alice
- 2: The March Hare is not on the Dormouse's right.
- 3: The Dormouse is not on Alice's left.

After the success of the first Tea Party, the Mad Hatter decides to throw another one. This time, he invites many more people.

Extension: Use a similar method to last time and see if you can work out who sits where this time.

- 1: The Dormouse needs to sit between the Mad Hatter and the March Hare.
- 2: The March Hare wants to sit to the Dormouse's right to keep him awake.
- 3: The King and Queen of Hearts get very upset if they don't sit at the ends of the table.
- 4: Tweedledee and Tweedledum always sit next to each other and today they are in between the Cheshire Cat and the Mock Turtle.
- 5: The grinning one has to be kept in check and needs to sit next to the White Rabbit
- 6: The Caterpillar sits across from the one who is always late and next to someone who sits at the end of a table.
- 7: The Dormouse and one of the twins are put in the centre because they like to pull faces at each other across the table.
- 8: The King's job is to serve the cake and he likes the Mock Turtle next to him to help.
- 9: The White Rabbit will be whispering apologies for his lateness into the Queen's right ear.
- 10: Alice has the spare seat.
